EXTRA! EXTRA! Announcing a New Version of D2L

Faculty Training for the New Version of D2L

On Monday, August 5th, Oklahoma State University released a new version of D2L. The transition period from one version to the other took place over the course of three days beginning on Wednesday, July 31st and ending on Friday, August 2nd.

The CTI Department was given a beta version of the upgrade so that we could learn the new version of D2L for ourselves. Once we had an understanding of how everything worked, we created video tutorials for faculty members to view and refer to as a reference.

Training on the new version of D2L will take place on Wednesday, August 14th, Thursday, August 15th and Friday, August 16th. Training will be mandatory for each school and Dean. Your Dean selected the date and time of your training session.

Due to the number of faculty, and the number of training sessions that we need to offer, it is very important that you are on time to your predetermined training session. The training sessions will begin promptly at the top of the hour and end one hour later with another session beginning as soon as the previous one has ended.

CTI Celebrations

We had two very fun events take place this summer! The first was the marriage of Dr. Soltani’s son, Ali to Danielle Kilhoffer. The bride and groom were married at the Hall of Mirrors in downtown Oklahoma City on June 9, 2013.

On Tuesday, July 16th, at 4:46am, Richard and Nana Osei welcomed a 6 lb. 13 oz. baby girl named Candace Jennifer Osei.

Please join me in congratulating both families on their exciting news!
